My biggest strengths:

A combination of my social skills and genuine interest in getting to know and have fun with new students. To welcome and give a good first impression of Uppsala and our nation is something I believe is of importance for this position and it's something I do well. Also I look like Donald trump in this picture.

My greatest weakness:

Perfectionist. I am afraid of making mistakes. This leads to me sometimes overthinking things and other times poor planning. Such as putting way too much effort into something that requires minimal effort.

Why I am running for this post:

I was part of the recece committee this semester and had really a lot of fun working the "inskrivning" and spending time with all the new students especially with the International students. I joined the international secretaries this semester on their events and had lots of fun working with them and now I want to do the same but more.

I believe I would be great for this office. Because of the reasons mentioned above and because through traveling a lot in my life I've seen many parts of the world and doing this will help appreciate this even more and inspire for future travels.

Something I want to achieve if I am elected:

I would want to achieve the greatest possible welcome for international students given the current situation. Not only for snerikes but for Uppsala university as a whole. I want to show the world how amazing our nation and this city really is.
